Art Unit: 2153

1. Claims 1-16 are pending for examination.

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

(a) throughout the specification, the text should be updated with the current status of the cited applications such as U.S. Patent Application Serial No., a filing date, U.S. Patent No., abandoned date and the issued date. Appropriate correction is required.

3. Examiner once again carefully reviewed and considered the entire specification that was originally submitted and Examiner would like to point out the following observations. First, the original claims 1-16 and the original specification did not direct to a consumer apparatus response to a user-input ... under control of (based on) ... an identifier thereof associated with the apparatus (e.g., see the original claims filed 8/10/2000). Second, the original claims 1-16 and the original specification did not mention the use of ... an identifier to retrieve the data from a server as amended claims. There is no teaching that both predetermined URL and the identifier can be used as interchangeable (the "or" language) to retrieve the data from a server as amended claims. On a contrary, the original specification was dealing with the use of a lookup table for converting the identifier to the URL in order to retrieve the content from a remote server. There is no directly use of the identifier to retrieve the content from the server without converting to the URL. In addition, Examiner wanders how the URL can be used to retrieve the content from the remote server directly without converting the URL to the IP address. There are only two lines (e.g., page 11, lines 2-3, "proxy 202 causes network 112 to contact an external server 206 to request a specific page indicated by a specific URL”) in the original specification that teaches the use of URL to retrieve the content data from the remote server. What kind of a proxy device 202 that can perform such function? Moreover, there is no teaching in the original application as amended drawing (4/4/07), especially the newly added figure 3 which contains a new matter and it will not be entered. The newly added specification does not sufficiently describe this newly added figure either. Applicant is reminded that each elements or items of drawing must be labeled and sufficiently described in detail. And, the applicant is suggested to cite where in the specification that teaches the newly added features of figures 1-3.

4. The amendment filed 4/4/07 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132(a) because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132(a) states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as mentioned in paragraph 2 above and as follows:

a) “a user-input for initiating retrieval of data from a server under control of (now based on) a predetermined URL or an identifier thereof associated with the apparatus”;

and

b) “the predetermined URL or identifier thereof being stored on the home network”. Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Art Unit: 2153

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The original specification did not direct to a consumer apparatus response to a user-input ... under control of (based on) ... an identifier thereof associated with the apparatus. The original specification did not mention the use of ... an identifier directly to retrieve the data from a server as amended claims. There is no directly use of the identifier to retrieve the content from the server without converting to the URL. This original proxy device 202 is merely a black magic rectangular box (e.g., see page 11, lines 2-3) that proclaimed to perform such and such function without complying with the written description requirement.

7. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The original specification did not direct to a consumer apparatus response to a user-input ... under control of (based on) ... an identifier thereof associated with the apparatus. The original specification did not mention the use of ... an identifier directly to retrieve the data from a server as amended claims. There is no directly use of the identifier to retrieve the content from the server without converting to the URL. This original proxy device 202 is merely a black magic rectangular box (e.g., see page 11, lines 2-3) that proclaimed to perform such and such function without complying with the enablement requirement.

8. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted element is a lookup table for converting the identifier to the URL in order to retrieve the content from a remote server.
b) and the conversion the URL to an IP address in order to retrieve the content from a remote server.

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. And, Examiner would like to postpone his response to the applicants' argument regarding Humpleman's reference due to the new matter issue. To expedite some issues that arise during the prosecution of this case, Examiner would like to address as follows:

a) It is impossible that the content data could be retrieved based on an identifier without first converting it to a URL using the lookup table and the URL is converted to an IP address which are omitting essential elements.

Art Unit: 2153

b) If claim 5 cites "a predetermined URL" and claims 7-8 depend on claim 5, then the term "the URL" in claims 7-8 should be "the predetermined URL" in order to clarify or solve the problem of a clear antecedent basis issue. And, Examiner respectfully request this correction.

c) adding the term "the step of" in a method claim does not hurting the claimed language but it makes the claim format looks or sounds right.

10. A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 (three) months and 0 (zero) days from the mail date of this letter. Failure to respond within the period for response will result in ABANDONMENT of the application (see 35 U.S.C 133, M.P.E.P 710.02, 710.02(b)).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Krisna Lim whose telephone number is 571-272-3956. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday to Friday from 9:30 AM to 6:00 PM.
